Our School Culture Sets Us Apart

While our test scores and high school placements speak for themselves, it's truly our school culture that makes the difference.

Cell Phone-Free Learning

Since before it was popular, St. Giles has been cell phone-free, which removes the distraction of phones to enable socialization, improve learning and outcomes, and minimize the impact of social media on our students' developing minds.

Students are Safe, Secure and at Home

Campus safety is a priority and our students are sheltered from many of the issues that typically plague middle schools. Our on-site administrators are present, engaged and act nimbly; bureaucracy doesn't hold us back from meeting the needs of our students.

Your Child's Emotional Well-Being Matters

Our full-time school counselor pushes into classrooms and oversees a social-emotional curriculum developed to build character, teach executive functioning and foster social-emotional wellness.

No-Cut Sports

We value team sports and give our students in grades 4-8 the opportunity to reap the benefits of confidence, collaboration, sportsmanship, physical activity and more. We also offer band, choir, theater and a variety of classes and clubs.

High Expectations for Student Responsibility

St. Giles School holds students accountable for their own learning by teaching organizational habits and expecting students to participate fully in the learning experience, which prepares them for high school and beyond. Yes, we assign homework!

Relationships are Key

Our student-to-teacher relationships go deeper than a ratio: small school size ensures all students are known and loved, with teachers communicating with students and families to support student learning. Parents have a voice in their child's school experience.

Leadership Opportunities Abound

Our PK-8 model and small size provide built-in opportunities for leadership through our Buddy Program, Kids Klub volunteering, service work, sports teams, Mass participation, Ambassadors and more.

A positive middle school experience is vital to a young person's academic, physical, spiritual and social-emotional development. It's where they discover who they are and where they learn to think on their own. Where your child learns matters. Discover the St. Giles difference.
